Back in 1811, our young nation made a "Promise" to care for its older and disabled veterans. This would be repayment for their sacrifices in defending liberty. At last, two homes were built: the U.S. Naval Asylum (1834) and the U.S. Military Asylum (1851). The Naval Asylum provided a home for retired sailors in Philadelphia until 1976 when the home was relocated to Gulfport, Mississippi. General Winfield Scott, a hero of the Mexican-American War, provided funding to Congress to open a home in Washington D.C. for old and infirm soldiers. In 1991 both retirement homes joined forces and became the Armed Forces Retirement Home.
